Ryan McLuskie brings in cakes!

A stunned Ryan Hepburn receives 'proper' cakes from an ultra generous McLuskie

Wednesday 29th April was an historic day in the life of the Madras Physical Education Department. Out of the blue, young Ryan McLuskie offered to his colleagues not one but TWO packets of real branded cakes. Similar to the recent Solar Eclipse, these events don't happen very often in a lifetime so all present witnessed and tasted something that may not be seen again.

A proud McLuskie said “ In 2009 when I last brought in a whole packet of Morrison's Savers Rich Tea there was overwhelming silence when I issued each member of the department with their biscuit – This time I was determined to get at least one 'thanks' so I apologise to Laura and Iona in advance as I've had to use their Xmas Pressie money to fund this gift”
